

Did you know...?

According to the New England Journal of Medicine, average life expectancy in the United States will decline over the next 20 years due to unhealthy lifestyles and resulting chronic disease.

This would reverse a trend that dates back to the 1850s!

